DEFEND THE ROADS

CORPEDO SYSTEM SAID TO HAVE

BEEN COMPLETED.

NORFOLK IS FEELING MORE SECURE. The People Think a Spanish Man-of-War Could Hardly Get By the Forts and Torpedoes - Uneasiness in

A gentleman from Norfolk, who was in Richmond yesterday, was very much interested in the fortifications to protect Hampton Roads.

He said he had it from an authority which could not be questioned, that the bottom of the harbor of Hampton Roads had been covered, figuratively speaking, with torpedos, which could be exploded by an electric current from Fort Monroe or other points on land.

The work of placing these defences was begun less than a month ago, and conducted with the utmost secrecy, it being done entirely at night. Hampton Roads had been plotted off some time ago for this purpose, but it was not until recently that the work was completed. FEARS ALLAYED IN NORFOLK: He said the fact is more or less gene-rally known in Norfolk, and that the property owners of that city are not uneasy regarding the probability of a Spanish fleet passing the forts and bom-barding the place. There was, at one time, he said, very grave doubt as to whether the entrance to the harbor was ifficiently well guarded, but the magnitude of the preparations at Fort Monroe greatly allayed popular apprehension, and since it is beginning to be believed that the torpedo defence of the roads has been perfected, there is little or no fear of bombardment It seems, however, that Richmond capitalists, who have property interests in Newport News, are not so confident. These are said to have sent several communications to the War Department asking that the defences at Fort Monroe be made stronger. There are a number of industrial enterprises at Newport News controlled by Richmond capital, among them the valuable gas plant.

MAY NOT WANT ORGANIZED FORCE. Defences at Fort Monroe are discussed by the State military officers in Richmond, but they do not profess to have full information on the subject. It is the opinion, however, that they are very

Discussing the prospect of war, and kindred topics, yesterday, Adjutant-General Naile said he did not think, as many iid, that the beginning of hostilities would be the signal for ordering out the would be the signal for ordering cut the organized military of the various States. He said it was possible that an invasion of Cuba would not be ordered, and that the war would be virtually a naval duel. In such an event, especially if Congress passes the bill increasing the strength of the army to 100,000 men, he though the the army to 104,000 men, he though the Governors of the States would not be asked for troops, but that the President would simply call for volunteers for the

T. P. A'S TO MEET IN OMAHA.

The Ninth Annual Convention to Be Held There in May.

The ninth annual convention of the Travellers' Protective Association of America, which is to be held at Omaha, Neb., May 31st to June 3d, promises to be the best and largest attended convengation will be much larger than hereto-fore, and the members, remembering the splendid hospitality always shown visitors by the people of this great western city, will take their wives and families, their sweethearts and friends along with them. The good people of Omaha are not forgetting the Travellers' Protective ociation in their great desire to make the Transmississippi Exposition a world beater in the exposition line, and they are ndng all aid to the local committee of Nebraska division in providing a good time for the visiting members.

The exposition management will tender the association many courtesies that others will probably not get. The convention will convene the day previous to the opening of the exposition, and a greater part of the business may be transacted that day. National-President Wallerstein has received assurances from the committees that everything for the comfort of the members will be provided. The chairman of the Railroad Committee will see to it that the members will get a cheap rate for the occasion, so that all can attend. He will be lent the assistance of the exposition management in this work. Advices from Omaha are to the effect that hotel rates will remain normal, and that first-class accommodations can be had at $2.50 per day. American plan cheaper accommo-dations can also be obtained. Members wishing to engage rooms in advance can have the matter attended to with prompt-ness by addressing Mr. R. F. Hodgin, a member of the National Press Commit-

REPLY TO LINCOLN POST.

Adjutant Stratton Acknowledges the Tribute to General Lee.

The following letter is self-explanatory: Headquarters R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, Richmond, Va., April 2, 1893. Adjutant O. F. Gifford, Lincoln Post, No.

Adjutant O. F. Gifford, Lincoln Post, No. 11, Grand Army of the Republic, Newark, N. J.:
Dear Sir,—The resolutions of Lincoln Post, No. 11, Grand Army of the Republic, Newark, N. J., complimentary to our comrade, General Fitzhugh Lee, transmitted by you, were read before R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, at their meeting last night, and I was instructed to convey to Lincoln Post the high appreciation of this camp for the kind and complimentary terms in which they speak of General Fitzhugh Lee.

To us, who knew and served with him, this faithful and efficient performance of duty by General Lee; his caim and dignified bearing under the trying circumstances which have, and continue to, surround him, and his intelligent concep-
